Administrative History

Mundelein College was founded by the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary (BVMs) in response to a call by Cardinal George Mundelein for a Catholic women's college on the North Side of Chicago. For 60 years, Mundelein College offered its students a comprehensive Catholic liberal arts education. The women who were educated at Mundelein came from many ethnic and socio-economic groups and were often the first females in their families to attend college. The college was led through many changes and social movements in the Catholic Church and nation by renowned educator Sister Ann Ida Gannon, BVM, who served as president from 1957 to 1975. Mundelein College served as the last private Catholic women's college in Illinois. Mundelein College affiliated with neighboring Loyola University Chicago in 1991.

Scope and Content

The collection was assembled in the Mundelein College archives during the active years of the college. Materials include photographs and are arranged into series to match the arrangement of the Mundelein College Paper Records. For this reason, some series are listed but do not contain any folders of photos. See the Mundelein College Paper Records finding aid for more information. This collection is currently being processed and digitized. Dates and descriptions will be updated as the project continues. Contact the archives for more information.
