Please respond to the questions below. Feel free to supplement your responses on additional pages.

1) Have you taken a course in the international law curriculum? If so, which?

2) What interests you about the Comparative Law Seminar: Latin America?

3) Have ever you studied abroad? If you answer yes, please describe the circumstances.

4) The sessions involves submission of a research paper on comparative law involving Latin America, in one of three general areas: business-related matters, criminal justice, and child and family law issues. Without binding yourself to a particular topic, what are your current thoughts on a possible area of research in which you may want to engage?

5) Is there anything else that you want the committee to consider regarding your application?
