

New law students get some inside knowledge

The JumpStart Preview and Preparation program is a three-day, tuition-free program designed to help prepare incoming law students tackle the challenges they will face in their first year of law school. It's sponsored and organized by the Chicago Consortium of Diversity Professionals, consisting of the law schools of Northwestern, Loyola, John Marshall, Chicago-Kent and DePaul, in partnership with the Chicago Committee on Minorities in Large Law Firms, Just The Beginning Foundation and Minority Legal Education Resources. In the photo (from left to right) are Alisha Howell, incoming 1L at Loyola University Chicago School of Law; Tanya Woods, Loyola law school 2L and JumpStart 2010 graduate; and Christine Heaton, coordinator of CLE programming and law school events at Loyola.
