Library Services for Graduate Students

Access Services

Circulation
Any Loyola-owned book may be checked out for three months, with unlimited renewals. You may have as many as 500 books checked out at any time.

Holds and Recalls
Books already in circulation but due back shortly can be held for you upon their return. Faculty, staff, and students may request that a circulated book be recalled after the first two weeks of the initial loan period.

Interlibrary/Intercampus Loans
If books and articles you need are located at another campus location, your home library will retrieve and hold the item for you at your request. Books and articles not owned by Loyola Libraries may be ordered and tracked online through our ILLiad interlibrary loan service.

Reciprocal Borrowing
Loyola University Chicago students may borrow books directly at the University of Illinois Chicago (UIC) and The Hebrew Theological Institute. Students may also request any materials from the Center for Research Libraries (http://www.crl.edu) using Interlibrary Loan.

For more information, please contact the Circulation Desk at Cudahy (8-2632) or Lewis Library (5-6625).

Reference and Liaison Services

A librarian assigned to each academic department works to develop appropriate reference and liaison services to meet the needs of our students and faculty. You may contact the librarian for your department about the collection, to make a book or materials recommendations, for assistance with a specific research question, or for information about any library service. Librarians can answer quick questions by phone and email or schedule an individual appointment.

For contact information, please refer to Web site at http://libraries.luc.edu/services/reference.shtml.

RefWorks is a citation management software program, paid for by the Loyola University Libraries. RefWorks collects, stores, and organizes citations from books, articles, Web sites and other sources. It automatically converts citations into properly formatted bibliographies. A multitude of citations styles are offered including MLA, APA and Chicago Style. Citations can be exported automatically from many Loyola databases.

In addition, you can search Pegasus, Loyola’s online catalog, from within RefWorks. RefWorks also converts citations from other bibliographic management systems such as Endnote and Reference Manager. All Loyola undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and staff may set up their own personal accounts at http://www.refworks.com. Please access RefWorks from a campus computer to create your initial login.

RefWorks tutorials are held throughout the academic year at both Cudahy and Lewis Libraries.
In January 2008, Loyola students, faculty and staff will have access to a state-of-the-art electronic research and computing commons.

Instruction Classes

Librarians are available to teach library research skills to your students. A typical instruction class may include discussion about research strategies and hands-on practice, using Pegasus, the libraries' online catalog, searching periodical databases in the subject area, and evaluating and citing electronic information.

Library Assignments

Teaching graduate students who are considering creating a library assignment are encouraged to consult with a librarian. The librarian will provide assistance on appropriate reference materials, content, availability of resources and on assignment objectives. If you are interested in scheduling more of these services, please contact:

- Cudahy Library: Jeannette Pierce, Head of Reference, 773-508-2637
- Lewis Library: Rolando Recometa, Library Associate, 312-915-6621

Or see http://libraries.luc.edu/cfpages/subjlist.cfm for a list subject areas and bibliographers.

Course Reserves

Library owned books, audiovisual materials, personal books, exams, lecture notes, homework solutions, and photocopies of articles or chapters of books may be placed on reserve at the library or on electronic reserves. For more information on course reserves, contact:

- Cudahy Library: Avril DeBat, Reserves Associate, 773-508-2633
- Lewis Library: Patrick Mallory, Reserves Associate, 312-915-6453
