INTERNSHIP LEARNING GOALS
At Unearth the World, we provide training for all of our interns to set you up for success. We provide an in-depth description of expectations as well as clear communication of daily, weekly, and monthly tasks. A weekly call time with the founder of the organization will allow for regular communication and opportunity for feedback.

What you will learn as an Unearth the World Research Intern:

- In depth understanding of the “voluntourism” industry. You will engage in several comprehensive research projects focused on impactful volunteer placement companies, key international aid organizations, and game-changing non-profits/NGOs.

- Improved critical thinking skills and ability to convert targeted research into a convincing presentation. At the end of your internship, you will be asked to present key findings to the company founders.
