Loyola University Chicago School of Law Study Law Abroad Program

May 23 – June 2, 2016

9th Annual China Program 2016

“The cradle of civilization.”
As the proud capital of modern China, Beijing is not only the modern political, cultural and educational center of China, but holds the biggest collection of ancient sites and relics in the nation. Beijing has been at the center of China and the heart and soul of politics and society for more than 5,000 years. If the pace of change in the city today is anything to judge by, Beijing is determined to stay at the forefront of Chinese civilization.

A world-renowned ancient cultural city, Beijing is a flourishing metropolis, boasting many scenic spots and historical monuments, precious artifacts and world-famous architectural wonders, such as: the Forbidden City, which was the imperial palace of the Ming and Qing dynasties; the Summer Palace, a summer resort for the Qing court, sitting within the largest Chinese-style garden in existence; The Great Wall, the only man-made construction on earth visible from outer space; The Ming Tombs, the mausoleums of 13 emperors of the Ming Dynasty; The Temple of Heaven, where the Ming and Qing emperors prayed for good harvests; and Tiananmen Square, located in the heart of the capital, known as one of the largest city squares in the world.

Loyola’s Study Law Abroad Program will explore many of these facilities and institutions to introduce students to the study and practice of law in a foreign culture.

Curriculum

Introduction to Chinese Law and Legal System (High & Zimmerman)

This variable-credit course provides students with an overview of the modern Chinese legal and political systems and lawyering in China. As an economy and society in transition, China is facing many challenges while it seeks to transition into a market economy with Chinese characteristics China style market economy. The course is divided into two components (with a little Chinese culture, language and survival tips sprinkled in as appropriate). Spring semester component (2 credits): Adopting a “law-in-action” approach, students will be introduced to philosophical and historical foundations of Chinese law and the present legal system, sources of law and legal/political institutions in China; the course will also explore specific substantive areas of law and order in modern China, including constitutional law, criminal law and human rights. Beijing campus summer component (1 credit, Compulsory for 1Ls): introduction to Chinese commercial law, focusing on laws applicable to US companies doing business in China, and the pitfalls of which international legal practitioners should be aware when representing clients doing business in China or with China companies. Specific substantive areas of law include FDI, operational issues, due diligence, IP and dispute resolution. Note: students enrolled in the three-credit option may interview for one of two summer internships at Sheppard Mullin Richter & Hampton’s Beijing campus. Other Beijing internships may be available. General Information

Loyola University Chicago

Founded in 1870, Loyola University Chicago is the oldest university in the City of Chicago. The school of law admitted its first class in 1908 and has been accredited by the American Bar Association since 1925. Loyola University Chicago is one of the largest Jesuit universities in the United States.

Administration

Jean M. Gaspardo, B.S., Wisconsin; M.B.A., J.D., Loyola-Chicago. Dean Gaspardo served in the capacity of Director of Student Services for Loyola from 1993 – 1999, and as assistant dean from 1999 to the present. Her current responsibilities as Dean of Students and Law Programs include: counseling students; directing Study Law Abroad Programs in Rome and China; assisting with the London Advocacy Program and Spring Break programs abroad; and assisting with administrative operations of the law school. Dean Gaspardo has an extensive background in small business and world travel. She speaks fluent Italian and can also communicate in Spanish and French. Dean Gaspard has accompanied Loyola’s summer abroad programs continuously since 1991.

Registration
To register, fill out the application form online (available November 2015) and mail or drop off the non-refundable application fee of $450 to Dean Jean Gaspardo, room 1227, Loyola, by January 13, 2016. The application fee will be credited toward your activity fee. In addition, Loyola University Chicago students must have successfully completed at least your first semester course work with a 2.0 or better (on a 4.0 scale) and have completed or are currently enrolled in the second semester of first year law school.

Registration via LOCUS is available on-line until January 13, 2016. Students must register for a minimum of three (3) credit hours. A non-refundable deposit is required at the time of application, no later than January 13, 2016. All fees and housing costs for the program must be paid in full by April 1, 2016.

Space is limited, apply early. Only 24 students will be accepted into the China Program. We expect the China Program to fill up immediately!

Please note: Except in the event of the cancellation of the 2016 program or of the course, no tuition can be refunded after April 4, 2016. Students who withdraw from a course after February 12, 2016 will receive a “W” on their transcript and cannot receive a refund of tuition. ABA Standards on U.S. State Department Consular Information regarding “Areas of Instability” and Travel Warnings in those countries where programs are held will govern program cancellation.

Eligibility
Any student in good standing [2.0 or above on a 4.0 scale] at Loyola University Chicago School of Law who has completed at least one year of legal study is eligible to participate. Last year our China Program enrolled 9 students, all of whom were from Loyola Chicago.
Credit & Grades
The Study Law Abroad Program is offered as part of the fully accredited curriculum of Loyola University Chicago School of Law. Grades for courses will be earned and awarded in increments of: A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D, F; grades will be determined by a written examination and/or paper(s) at the discretion of the instructor. It is unlikely that participation in foreign summer programs may be used to accelerate graduation per ABA Standard 305, Interpretation 4.

Financial Aid
Financial Aid may be available from the school financial aid office. Loyola Chicago students should contact the Financial Aid Office of Loyola University Chicago at (773) 508-7704.

February 23, 2016: Loan application is due at the Loyola Admission and Financial Aid Office. Late applications, at best, generate late funding (post-departure). FAFSA due.

Materials
After registering, students will be responsible for obtaining the required course materials. Students should contact the Loyola University Bookstore to obtain the course materials in the United States and should bring them abroad. The bookstore will stock all assigned materials by late-April and will fill orders from outside Chicago promptly by mail: Loyola University Book Store, 26 E. Pearson St., Chicago, IL 60610. (312) 915-7421.
Transportation
Students will be expected to make their own travel arrangements to their Study Law Abroad program location. Many airlines, domestic and foreign, fly to these places.

Accessibility
Beijing is not easily accessible for use by people who use wheelchairs or who are visually impaired. Public facilities and transportation are generally not accessible to people with disabilities.

Passports & Visas
Each student in the program should have a valid passport good through November 2016. Students are responsible for obtaining their own passports and Visas. Allow at least two months processing time in securing a passport. All students must submit a copy of their passport and Visa to Dean Gaspardo by April 1, 2016. Students will be responsible for obtaining a Visa from the nearest Chinese Consulate. Please note that the Visa application requires a passport valid for approximately 6 months after the program concludes and takes approximately 2 weeks to process. Enrolled students will receive further information regarding the Visa application process. Please visit http://www.china-embassy.org/eng/default.htm for more information.
