“Overplayed: Sharia, Women and Why We’ve Heard this Song Way Too Many Times”

Asifa Quraishi-Landes
University of Wisconsin, Law School

Sharia and women’s rights is a hot topic. Professor Asifa Quraishi-Landes will review how feminism has focused on Muslim women—tracing this all the way back to colonialism, and then connecting it to contemporary feminist advocacy that addresses shari’a as a problem. She will offer some suggestions for how we can move past this topic—and the war over women.

Thursday February 16, 2017 | 4 PM
Cudahy Science Building 207

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC