Directions to the Women and Leadership Archives

The Women and Leadership Archives is located together with the Gannon Center for Women and Leadership in Piper Hall at Loyola University Chicago’s Lakeshore Campus. Please visit our website for a map of the Loyola University Lakeshore Campus. Contact the WLA for additional directions.

Public Transportation:

The Women and Leadership Archives is easily accessible by the CTA Red Line by getting off at either the Granville or the Loyola stop. The cost is $2.50. The WLA is also easily accessibly by the 147 or 151 bus routes, the cost of which is $2.25.

Parking:

Proceed through the main entrance of campus towards the parking structure located on Sheridan road. The cost to park in the parking structure is $6.

Driving Directions:

The Women and Leadership Archives is located at 1032 W. Sheridan Road, Chicago, IL 60660.

From the North:
Follow Sheridan Road south to the campus entrance. Note that at the intersection of Sheridan, Broadway and Devon, Sheridan continues to the left. Make sure you turn left at this intersection, go under the “L” tracks, and the main entrance to campus is at the second light on the left. Piper Hall is located on the lakefront, just east of the main entrance to campus.

From the West and I-94:
Take I-94 East to Touhy Avenue. Go east on Touhy to Sheridan Road. Turn right (south) on Sheridan Road and continue south to Loyola. Note that at the intersection of Sheridan, Broadway and Devon, Sheridan continues to the left. Make sure you turn left at this intersection, go under the “L” tracks, and the main entrance to campus is at the second light on the left. Piper Hall is located on the lakefront, just east of the main entrance to campus.

From the South:
Take Lake Shore Drive north and follow it until it ends at Sheridan Road. Turn right (north) onto Sheridan Road and proceed about one mile to Loyola. Piper Hall is located right as Sheridan road curves to the West.
