

HUNGER RUN/WALK

This is a road race that will take place on the Loyola University Chicago campus and on public roads. There are always risks and hazards associated with participating in any road race, including hazards presented by traffic, weather, road conditions, and other factors. While the coordinators of this event will take reasonable steps to ensure that the course is safe, participants are advised that they are at all times responsible for their own safety and well-being. Participants are expected to take all necessary precautions, both before and during the race, to protect themselves from any road hazards. Participants are also required to execute the Waiver of Liability - Assumption of Risks form below prior to participating in the race.

Waiver of Liability – Assumption of Risks

In consideration of participating in this activity, I expressly acknowledge that I am assuming all risks presented by participation in this event and affirm that I will not hold Loyola University Chicago or any of its trustees, officers, employees, or agents responsible for any injury, loss, damage, or accident resulting from my voluntary participation in this event. I further state that I am physically fit and do not have any medical condition or physical limitation that would put me at risk for injury as a result of my participation in this event. By signing below, I also give permission for my name and/or photograph to be used in any broadcast, telecast, or written account of this event, as well as in other publications of media.

I have read and understand the foregoing and affirm that I am participating in this event of my own free will.
