In the Business Administration concentration, you will:

- Develop competency and depth in understanding and interpreting the subject matter presented in economics and accounting courses.
- Communicate effectively, using written, oral, and visual modes appropriate to your audience and purpose.
- Understand, analyze, and evaluate numerical data and use it to draw or evaluate conclusions.
- Analyze, synthesize, and evaluate diverse information, ideas, and perspectives in a contextually appropriate manner. Demonstrate an awareness of your own thinking and decision-making processes, and their importance in academic and non-academic settings.

To earn an A.A. in Business Administration, you will need to:

- Complete or test out of these Math courses:
  ACMAT 117 Pre-Calculus I
  ACMAT 118 Pre-Calculus II
  ACMAT 161 Calculus I

- Complete these Business courses:
  ACACT 201 Introductory Accounting I
  ACACT 202 Introductory Accounting II

- Earn at least 62 credit hours.
- Complete the Arrupe Mission Core.
- Complete the Gen Ed Core. Three of your ten Gen Ed classes are tailored specifically to you as a Business student:
  ACCOM 103 Business & Professional Speaking
  ACECO 201 Microeconomics
  ACECO 202 Macroeconomics

What can I do with an A.A. in Business Administration?
Studying business prepares you to work in a broad range of sectors. Additionally, earning an A.A. in Business Administration prepares you to pursue a bachelor’s degree in a variety of business majors, such as Accounting, Economics, Entrepreneurship, Finance, Human Resource Management, Information Systems, International Business, Management, Marketing, Supply Chain Management, and Sport Management.

How can I learn more?
Here are some ways to start exploring whether Business Administration is the right fit for you.

- Browse information about the range of Business majors. Most universities that have a business school will provide information about their majors. For example, check out information from the Quinlan School of Business here at Loyola (https://www.luc.edu/quinlan/). It’s also good to check out information provided by other business schools.
- Explore your interests: Look for events sponsored by the Quinlan School of Business. You can also look for student organizations focused on your academic interests (https://luc.campuslabs.com/engage/).
- Explore information about careers: Visit Loyola’s Career Services page (https://www.luc.edu/career/). They offer a resource called “What Can I Do With This Major?”