For 24/7 after hours help, click on Ask a Librarian on the library homepage.

Library Website: http://libraries.luc.edu

CONTACT THE EDUCATION LIBRARIAN TO LEARN MORE:
Tracy Ruppman
Reference and Instruction Librarian for School of Education
Lewis Library
truppman@luc.edu
312-915-6949

Lewis Library Reference
25 E. Pearson
6th floor
312-915-6631

Library Instruction Sessions. The University Libraries serve as an active partner in the teaching and learning processes of the University. Library faculty teach library research skills to classes and small groups.

Reference and Research Assistance. Students may receive reference assistance at the Reference Desk or arrange for an individual research consultation with a librarian. Assistance is also available by clicking on the “Ask a Librarian” link on our website, by phone, or by e-mail.

Access to Library Resources. The Libraries hold over 1.1 million volumes and 10,000 print and online journal subscriptions, and provide online access to a rich array of electronic resources through the Libraries’ website, including the online catalog, journal article databases, “Ask a Librarian” 24/7 chat, library information and other helpful links.

Online Catalog. The online catalog includes the holdings of all the University Libraries, including Law and Health Sciences. Loyola patrons can renew materials online.

Journal Article Databases. The University Libraries subscribe to more than 20 databases for education and psychology, many of which provide full-text journal articles. Full-text articles not available online may be available in print at one of our libraries or from another library.

Curriculum Collection. The Curriculum Collection consists of award-winning Children’s and Young Adult fiction and non-fiction books. The collection also contains teacher-edition textbooks and lesson plans, which support the curriculum and research of students in the teacher preparation program.

Interlibrary Loan. Materials not available in the University Libraries’ collections can be borrowed free of charge from other libraries.

Course Reserves. Course Reserves are educational materials that faculty have requested to be set aside and made available for students in specific classes.

Audiovisual Materials. In addition to browseable DVDs at each campus, we also have access to many streaming video services.

RefWorks Workshops. Librarians are available to assist students in using RefWorks, an online citation management, bibliography and collaboration tool.

Education Subject Guide: http://libguides.luc.edu/education
The Education Collection at Lewis Library, contains all print and electronic materials available to Education students in the teacher-training and graduate programs at Loyola. The print collection of education books (9th floor) and periodicals (6th and 8th floors) is housed at . For detailed information about all of the resources and to search the collection, visit: http://libguides.luc.edu/education.

Books & Newspaper Search Tools
- Dissertations & Theses (ProQuest)
- Education Research Complete
- ERIC via EBSCO
- Mental Measurements Yearbook
- PsycInfo
- Teacher Reference Center
- Omnifile Full-Text Select (Wilson)

Finding Primary Sources

Curriculum Collection

The Curriculum Collection at Lewis Library (6th floor), helps students enrolled in the School of Education to better understand and develop curricula for classroom use. This includes books for you as a teacher and your future students. All textbooks, workbooks and children’s literature can be checked out too! For detailed information about all of the resources and to search the collection, visit: http://libguides.luc.edu/curriculum_collection. But, here’s a sneak peek at what you’ll find:

- Content Area Textbooks/Basal Readers (including English literature and reading, social studies/government/history, science, math, health, and music)
- Multicultural/Culturally Responsive Literature (organized by cultural group)
- Non-Fiction Materials
- Resources by Subject (including science, math, social studies, language arts and foreign languages, bilingual education, special education and more!)
- Award-Winning Children’s and Young Adult Books (Newbery, Caldecott, Coretta Scott King & more!)
- Differentiated Instruction (for various grade levels and content areas)
- Alternative Texts (graphic novels, wordless picture books, etc.)