Sequence Overview:

This syllabus introduces TLSC 310, 320, and 330 separately as is the convention for university syllabi. However, in the ECSE program these modules are integrated into a continuous field-based learning experience rather than offered sequentially as in Sequences 1-4.

Sequence 5 focuses on language and literacy development and inclusive practices (including data-based decision making) for culturally and linguistically diverse preschool-aged children (including children with disabilities). Module 310 involves candidates in planning and implementing developmentally appropriate, evidence-based language and literacy practices. Module 320 engages candidates in the use of formal and authentic assessment practices to measure progress on learning objectives (including IEP and curriculum goals), developmental progress, and pre-academic readiness. Candidates gain experience in both planning and modifying instruction to meet group and individual needs. Module 330 involves the integration and application of the teaching and assessment knowledge and skills they learn in modules 310 and 320 to the planning and evaluation of integrated unit-based instruction. Alongside SOE faculty and classroom teachers, candidates incorporate technology into the design, implementation, and reflection upon individual, small group, and whole class activities, some of which involve co-teaching and sheltered instruction. Sequence 5 addresses TLLSC Enduring Understandings 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, and 9, and is offered in conjunction with coursework focusing on inclusive practices for preschool-aged children with special needs. Candidates also complete assignments for CIEP M43 while in their placement classrooms. CIEP M43 and TLSC 310/320/330 instructors will collaborate throughout the semester to ensure alignment of schedules and practices.

Conceptual Framework Standards Addressed in this Sequence:

- CF4: Candidates demonstrate skills that will enable them to work effectively with diverse clients.
- CF5: Candidates demonstrate technological knowledge and skills, which enhance education.

TLSC 310 (2 credit hours)
Language and Literacy for Diverse Students:
Teaching and Assessing Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Students

TLSC 310 Module Description

This module focuses on the teaching of literacy skills developmentally appropriate for preschool. Emphasized are IL ELD Standards, as well as WIDA Standards for English and Spanish language development. In on-site school experiences, teacher candidates will work with core curriculum and the use of informal and formal assessments to determine student instructional needs and to target instructional interventions to them. Evidence-based instructional practices designed to address and adapt to the needs of culturally and linguistically diverse learners will be emphasized. Teacher candidates will work with classroom teachers to select high quality print non-print and technological resources for teaching literacy skills for use in the activities/lessons that they prepare and lead/teach. Experiences will be integrated within best practices for working with emergent bilingual children, as well as the MTSS framework for assignments done in CIEP M43.

This module focuses on literacy (i.e. reading, writing) with the broad lens of preschoolers and an emphasis on the connection between language and literacy for culturally and linguistically diverse students who are still acquiring the English language. Since language (i.e., listening and speaking) and literacy (i.e., reading and writing) are inherently connected through receptive (i.e., listening and reading) and productive (i.e., speaking and writing) domains. Sequence 5 includes instructional strategies (across the curriculum and including all developmental domains) with a focus on language and literacy to prepare teachers for classroom contexts with emergent bilingual children.

Module Goals

TLSC 320: (2 credit hours)
Using Classroom Data in a Collaborative Environment to Advance Student Achievement

TLSC 320 Module Description

This module focuses on the relationship between curriculum, assessment, data analysis and instructional modifications for the teaching of reading skills in developmentally appropriate preschool environments. Mentor teachers at partner sites will work with candidates to understand and aid in the analysis of school wide (if applicable) and classroom data and discuss how that influences class and individual student instruction and intervention. Candidates learn about the design of traditional and alternative assessments, as well as the various issues regarding assessment design and implementation can lead to invalid and unreliable data for diverse students. Candidates then learn specifically about how to utilize data to determine student achievement and guide instruction. For emergent bilingual students, candidates learn to select assessments that examine content outlined in objectives, rather than test language proficiency or mainstream cultural norms; teachers will analyze and modify tests and tasks for cultural and linguistic bias and language level/load. All ECSE candidates will complete this module at a school with emergent bilingual children and most likely in bilingual classrooms to ensure content application to the context of bilingual education.

As is the case with TLSC 310, this module focuses on literacy (i.e. reading, writing) with the broad lens of preschoolers and an emphasis on the connection between language and literacy for culturally and linguistically diverse students who are still acquiring the English language. Since language (i.e., listening and speaking) and literacy (i.e., reading and writing) are inherently connected through receptive (i.e., listening and reading) and productive (i.e., speaking and writing) domains. Sequence 5 includes instructional strategies (across the curriculum and including all developmental domains) with a focus on language and literacy to prepare teachers for classroom contexts with emergent bilingual children. Beginning in this module, candidates will be expected to consider the role of academic language in their instruction and plan specifically to support the development of academic language for all students in the classroom.

Module Goals

Essential Questions:

1. How can summative and formative assessment be used to provide individual feedback regarding student achievement?
2. How are objectives, assessment, data collection, data analysis, and educational decisions related?

4. How can teachers use data to effectively design, adjust and modify instruction for the individual classroom and school?
5. How do teachers take into consideration contextual components and aspects of diversity of students when analyzing data and formulating achievement plans?
6. Based on data, what are appropriate objectives and interventions for students and classes?
What data should be collected?

Sequence Five Professionalism and Participation Policy:

Attendance in on campus classrooms or at school site sessions is mandatory for all sessions. Classroom teachers and administrators plan for candidate involvement in their classrooms. Candidates are expected to arrive at the designated time and may not leave early. In the event of a special circumstance, this must be discussed in advance with the course instructor and classroom teacher. Highest professional levels of presentation in communication, attitude and appearance are expected to be in line with what is required of school faculty. Jeans, shorts, or casual clothing will not be permitted, regardless of policies onsite. Technology may not be used for personal purposes; cellphones should not be brought into classrooms except when needed to capture artifacts of learning. Unlike Sequence 4, there are no restrictions on jewelry, fragrance, or the presence of shoes in the classroom. Still, each school site will provide additional guidelines for candidates to follow. In the event of illness, candidates must contact their course instructors, classroom teachers and school office in the manner requested by the school as soon as possible.

Absences

Note that any absence from the school partner site must be made up. There are no excused site-based absences. You must ensure that any such absence does not undermine your paired work or interfere with the classroom teacher's instructor. Therefore, you must notify your instructor, your partner, AND your classroom mentor teacher in the event of an absence. You are required to include your instructor(s) in any communication that you initiate with your mentor teacher to make up for an absence. A make-up day schedule without your instructors' knowledge will not count. Note that you cannot make up days when you are delivering your mini-units. Missing site-based sessions at that time will severely impact your module grades.

For campus-based sessions, typically one absence is not an issue provided the candidate is responsible for all material covered within that session. Two absences will impact final grades, and three absences or more result in automatic failure of the module.

Professional Attitude and Demeanor Part I

- 2-Always prompt and regularly attend sessions. (No absences; one site-based absence may be made up)
- 1-Rarely late and regularly attend sessions (No more than 1 absence; missing a campus-based session automatically lowers this score as it cannot be made up).
- 0-Often late and/or poor attendance at sessions (More than 2 absences).

Professional Attitude and Demeanor Part II

- 2-Always prepared for sessions with assignments and required materials.

Because this course meets three times weekly, it is highly recommended that candidates ask questions of the instructor while at the school site; this requires consistent, extensive participation and engagement. This way immediate responses and help can be provided. Specific requests for times to meet during the morning time can easily be arranged. Questions regarding lesson plans and classroom-based assessments should be asked of the course instructor first and then following basic support and guidelines, the course instructor will help the candidates determine how best to seek appropriate support from the classroom teacher. Questions asked about assignments via email will be answered within 24 hours whenever possible. In the event of a personal emergency, however, please contact the instructor via email or phone as soon as possible so that course support can be provided if it is helpful. Candidates should not expect that assignments (other than activity plans and mini-unit) can be redone once graded or that extra credit will be given.

Late Assignment Policy

All assignments are expected on the dates noted. It is imperative that work be completed on time. For this reason, you must plan ahead and stay organized. This does not mean that you are not allowed to request additional time to work on individual assignments – timelines for several assignments will need to correspond to existing classroom practices on site rather than strictly aligning to the university calendar. In these cases, it is imperative to make a plan rather than wait until ambiguities resolve themselves. If an assignment must be submitted late, your instructors must be notified in advance (NOT on its due date) and that a plan for completion can be developed. Notifying an instructor on an assignment’s due date is not acceptable. From that point forward, point deductions will be made according to the following schedule:

1. 1 to 4 days late: 10% of points will be deducted

2. 5 to 7 days late: 30% of points will be deducted
3. more than 7 days late: 50% of points will be deducted

Conceptual Framework Standards

The School of Education at Loyola University Chicago, a Jesuit and Catholic urban university, supports the Jesuit ideal of knowledge in the service of humanity. We endeavor to advance professional education in the service of social justice, engaged with Chicago, the nation, and the world. To achieve this vision the School of Education participates in the discovery, development, demonstration, and dissemination of professional knowledge and practice within a context of ethics, service to others, and social justice. We fulfill this mission by preparing professionals to serve as teachers, administrators, psychologists, and researchers; by conducting research on issues of professional practice and social justice; and by partnering with schools and community agencies to enhance life-long learning in the Chicago area.

Specifically grounded in the overarching principles of Social Action through Education, this module focuses on the policies and practices that impact the instruction and assessment of diverse students in urban schools, emphasizing the role of the teacher in making educational decisions and advocating for students. Additionally, candidates must demonstrate understanding of educational policy and critically evaluate practices in a variety of classroom and school settings. This set of modules directly assesses CFS2: Candidates apply culturally responsive practices that engage diverse communities via the evaluation of teaching practices and mini unit; refer to those assignment descriptions and rubrics for the precise assignment components and rubric dimensions related to this CF standard.

Diversity

By focusing on the policy and practice in urban classrooms, this module addresses multiple perspectives on diversity, including but not limited to: the diversity in students' backgrounds (i.e., culture, language, ability) and classroom and school contexts (e.g., bilingual education, instructional contexts for students with special needs).

Dispositions

All students are assessed on one or more dispositional areas of growth across our programs: Professionalism, Inquiry, and Social Justice. The instructor in your course will identify the dispositions assessed in this course and you can find the rubrics related to these dispositions in LiveText. For those students in non-degree programs, the rubric for dispositions may be available through Sakai, TaskStream or another platform. Disposition data is reviewed by program faculty on a regular basis. This allows faculty to work with students to develop throughout their program and address any issues as they arise.

Syllabus Addendum Link

This link directs students to statements on essential policies regarding academic honesty, accessibility, ethics line reporting and electronic communication policies and guidelines. We ask that you read each policy carefully.

Sequence 5 Assignments

1. Cover Letter and Resume (TLSC 310)

Develop 1-page resume to provide your contact information and experiences (within and outside of TLLSC) relevant to your classroom work. Develop 1-page cover letter (you can edit what you shared in S4) to introduce yourself and convey your interest in ECE. Sample resume and instructor feedback are available in LiveText. Request from the partner site: make sure to include all relevant contact information, an emergency contact, and any nickname you use. Note that you will need a resume in October to apply for internship.

2. Daily Lesson Plan or Activity (TLSC 310, 330) | Due each Thursday starting Week 3

Beginning in week 3 of the sequence and at the discretion of classroom teachers and the S5 instructor, candidates are expected to plan and then lead (beginning in week 4) one activity each day. Activities may include whole group, small group, or individual instruction. S5 instructor and classroom teacher must have a copy of edited/refined activity plans BEFORE candidates lead the activity; each classroom teacher must have an opportunity to review your revised activity steps before you lead the activity. Candidates should aim to lead a variety of activities including, but not limited to circle time, center activities, classroom transitions, snack, music & movement, literacy and language development, individualized interventions, etc. One activity each week should involve an activity plan and should be video recorded and uploaded to a OneDrive folder shared with candidates' peer feedback group. Candidates should view group members' videos each week and provide comments about the video content as related to the CLASS, but S5 requires that candidates comment on teaching beyond the CLASS domains. Each week one video (instructor's choice) will be viewed as a group with peer and instructor feedback around lesson content, DAP, language and literacy methods, ELL support, inclusion, and overall teaching practices. The instructor may also choose one component from a domain of the Danielson Framework as an area of focus for feedback on each video recorded lesson/activity. The selected component for evaluation may vary each week according to the focus of candidates' teaching and identified areas of growth. The S5 or classroom teacher may choose an area of evaluation deemed most applicable to course content or your development as a teacher.

As in S4, activities and lessons are expected to align with classroom curriculum and be approved by the classroom teacher(s); however, it is more critical in S5 that you work with classroom teachers to both select and to develop your activity ideas, as teachers tend to have much more specific ideas about how they want these activities to look in their classroom in preschool. You may not lead an activity that the classroom teacher has not reviewed and approved; in fact, initially teachers should assign these activities. If you do not receive feedback you should notify your instructor for support.

3. Language/Literacy Environment and Practices Observation (TLSC 310)

Assignment description and template will be available on LiveText. This assignment involves making observational notes about the environment and practices in your placement classroom related to meeting the early literacy needs of the diverse class. For this assignment, it would also be helpful for you to ask the classroom teacher if you can review the classroom curriculum materials (including scope and sequence) focusing on literacy. Candidates will review their observational notes, the curriculum materials, and relevant readings, writing a paper synthesizing findings.

4. Rubric development (TLSC 320)

Soon after starting at the field site, each candidate will identify a specific literacy skill that their mentor teacher is working on in the classroom (this could be an objective from TS Gold), as well as the types of activities or assessments s/he typically uses to determine whether students have achieved that standard. Candidates will then design a rubric to assess student work or behavior in this area of language/literacy. Candidates will not actually use this self-developed rubric to assess children in the classroom – rather, this will provide practice for the Mini-Unit and Individualized Intervention assignments. Rubrics will be analyzed and discussed in class with instructor and classmates.

5. Assessment/CBM Assignment (TLSC 310)

For this assignment, candidates will ideally administer, score, and analyze data from individual and group assessment, then interpret and make recommendations in accordance with the assignment description on LiveText. The exact nature of this assignment will depend upon the assessment tools used in your S5 classrooms AND the extent to which teachers are comfortable allowing you to support their start-of-year assessments. You will write a brief data analysis and summary.

6. Literacy Practices Paper (TLSC 310)

This assignment assesses teacher candidates' understanding of what it means to be reflective practitioners and of the complexity of literacy practices in EC classrooms that aim to enact socially just teaching. Candidates must consider the connections between literacy theories from module readings and discussions and literacy practices from module experiences. Candidates consider the literacy practices occurring across the classroom curriculum in comparison to theory and practices in module readings and group discussions around literacy instruction, data use, and meeting the needs of ELLs.

7. Emergent Bilingual Portfolio (TLSC 320, 330) | Due 9/30 (part 1, midterm) Due 11/1 (part 2, final)

Assignment description will be provided. The Emergent Bilingual Portfolio allows candidates to engage in ongoing authentic curriculum-embedded assessment of an emergent bilingual child at their practicum sites. The portfolio allows a more comprehensive and individualized portrait of the young child than more traditional forms of assessment. Typical or emergent learning (or both) can be noted, and the flexibility of the portfolio models described in class is likely to allow them to be more beneficial for children with disabilities (as well as amenable to the IEP/IFSP). This assignment provides experience in creating a portfolio and requires candidates to exercise the strong observation skills they develop over their course of study.

Candidates use formal and informal data gathered while observing and working with an emergent bilingual preschooler, integrating artifacts into a carefully planned portfolio. This authentic assessment project must be planned around ten developmental domains: Cognitive, Language (Receptive and Expressive), Physical/motor, Social-Emotional, Literacy, Mathematics, Science/Technology, Social Studies, Artistic Expression, English language Acquisition. These domains align with the Creative Curriculum's Teaching Strategies Gold Assessment System and represent some of the most critical domains/content areas of any preschool curriculum.

A plan for the collection and selection of artifacts is developed, followed by the collection of artifacts over the sequence. Artifacts will include anecdotal notes, and will ALSO include such items as photographs, work samples, video clips, audio recordings, and others. They must reflect not only mastery of concepts or milestones, but also the process of development over time. Assistance will be provided in planning the collection of data best suited for portfolio assessment, rather than information that is more practically documented using a checklist or standardized assessment tool.

8. Mini Unit (TLSC 310, 320, & 330) | Due 10/29 (part 1), Due 11/12 (part 2), Due 11/26 (part 3)

Assignment description will be provided. The S5 Mini Unit is a key formative assessment of candidates' readiness to teach. The assessment is designed with a focus on student learning and principles from research and theory. The mini-unit is meant to introduce candidates to performance-based assessment and their ability to demonstrate an understanding of teaching and student learning with the guidance and support of their instructor and co-teacher educator.

Candidates will plan and teach four or more thematically aligned lessons (each candidate must lead two or more) designed to support specific language skills in the preschool classroom utilizing ISBE early childhood, UDL, and WIDA standards within their preschool site classroom curriculum. Working as a team with the classroom teacher and instructor, teacher candidates develop integrated lessons, activities, and assessments sequenced as a mini-unit. How the lessons or activities are connected depends upon how teaching is done in the classroom – some teachers organize the curriculum around themes; some will have broader ongoing projects; still others will build a variety of deeper explorations aligned with children’s questions and interests; the Mini-Unit assignment can be done within any of these models. Prior to teaching the unit, candidates work with the classroom teacher to conduct a class wide pre-assessment. Student data must be analyzed in order to modify the developed lessons based on classroom and individual needs. In other words, pre-assessment should and must lead to revisions in Task One. Candidates must identify how they will differentiate instruction and provide appropriate interventions to meet the lesson and activity achievement goals. This is Task One.

After classroom teacher and instructor approval, candidates teach and video record the developed lessons and reflect on that teaching. This is Task Two. Finally, candidates conduct post assessments, then interpret student data from pre-, formative, and post-assessments as related to unit achievement goals. This is Task Three.

Upon completion, candidates upload the videos, narratives, and activity plans to LiveText. Mini unit work will be presented at the TLLSC sequence 5 poster session. You will create and print scientific posters to present your mini-units there, and this session will serve as the Sequence 5 summative assessment. Specific steps to complete the assignment are provided in the semester calendar. Each task is submitted for feedback, and the final complete mini-unit with all required components is submitted at the end of the term.

Again, the Mini Unit involves three tasks – planning, instruction, and analysis. Steps for completing the assignment are outlined in an extensive assignment description shared via LiveText. In short:

1. Choose a focus to guide the sequence of a three day (one week or more) mini-unit with integrated lessons and activities with summative and formative assessments. If you are in a classroom where thematic planning is done, you can align your area of focus with the teacher’s theme. Note that:
  - a. The focus area must align with classroom curriculum and be approved by the classroom teacher(s) and instructor
  - b. The focus area must meet the developmental needs and interests of children
2. Begin developing pre-, formative, and post-assessments
  - a. Learning objectives must align with IL ELD, and WIDA standards
  - b. Gain feedback on assessments from peers, instructor, and classroom teacher(s)
  - c. Refine assessments
3. Develop content of lessons/activities of the unit
  - a. Content of lessons and activities must be developmentally appropriate, engaging, build towards the identified learning objectives, and prepare children for the developed assessments
4. Analyze class wide student data from pre-assessment and formulate an action plan (including differentiation and appropriate interventions) for the class and individual students aimed at meeting achievement targets of the unit

- a. Note – LEARNING OBJECTIVES MUST BE REVISITED FOLLOWING PRE-ASSESSMENT. Based on student data, modify the designed lessons, activities, and assessments with differentiation and interventions to support student needs
- b. Unique learning needs must be intentionally and appropriately addressed throughout
5. Implement the three-day (ore more) mini-unit
  - a. This should be completed collaboratively with the classroom teacher(s)
  - b. Teaching/activities must be video recorded and posted to LiveText
6. Collect post-data
  - a. Analyze student data in relation to learning objectives
7. As a group, review videos and assess teaching
8. Analyze all data, complete narratives, and submit final mini-unit to LiveText.

Candidates will be assessed on planning, instruction, assessment, analyzing teaching, and language development. Extensive rubrics for each of these areas are provided on Sakai. Candidates are responsible for becoming familiar with each rubric prior to beginning Task One.

9. Summative Assessment - Sequence Five Poster Session (TLSC 310, 320, & 330)

This combined TLLSC Sequence 5 Culminating Event includes teacher candidates from all specialty areas. Candidates will prepare professional poster presentations utilizing technology to showcase their school-based classroom experiences and present them during this session. Posters must be created using a scientific poster template and printed in the Digital Media Center. There is a cost associated with this, and you will also need to complete your poster in time for it to be printed at the DMC. Candidates' Sequence 5 instructors will assess posters and presentations prior to the poster session. The rubric for this assessment will be posted in Live Text, and grade credit will be applied and included in all three modules. Candidates will be expected to complete this assessment during the final weeks of the sequence. The grades from this summative assessment will be factored into the final grades for each of the three modules, where they will be worth 10% of each grade. At the poster session, small group discussions will focus on highlighting, connecting and integrating course content and clinical experiences across the TLLSC Areas: ECSE, ELEM, SPED & SEC.
