School of Education Commitment - COVID-19

Loyola's School of Education (SOE) recognizes that this is an unprecedented time. We understand that moving into the 2021-2022 academic year while living in the context of the COVID-19 pandemic may stir feelings of uncertainty, fear, or anxiousness. We want you to know that your safety, health, and well-being, as well as that of our faculty and staff, remain our primary concern. We want to be able to support you in any way that we can. We ask you to embody the Jesuit value of Cura Personalis, or care for the whole person, as we prepare to learn together. We ask that you consider your way of being in this community, to act with care, and treat all with dignity to keep yourself and others safe. If you are not feeling well, please use Loyola's SYMPTOM Checker. It can be found on the webpage or APP Loyola Health under the COVID -19 Related Information Tab at the top of the page.

The University understands that you may encounter obstacles that make reaching academic goals more difficult. We strongly encourage you to access the Student Resources on Loyola's COVID-19 Response webpage for information, supports, and resources on basic needs such as housing, food, financial aid, and medical and mental health. This web page also offers information on official University communications, access to technology, and student services. All Loyola University Chicago administrators, faculty, and advisors are also here for you.

The SOE is committed to working with all students to address any challenges that may arise during the semester. Please reach out to your professor as early as possible to discuss any accommodations you think may be necessary in order for you to successfully complete your coursework. Active and engaged communication with all of your professor is encouraged. We know the SPRING 2022 Return to Campus is once again a challenge for all of us, but through collaboration, communication, and shared responsibility, we will not only get through this difficult time; we will thrive.

*On-Campus COVID-19 Testing: Everyone in our community is strongly encouraged to participate in on-campus surveillance testing—even if fully vaccinated and boosted.

*COVID-19 Required Personal Safety Practices: We all have a part to play in preventing the spread of COVID-19. Following a simple set of required personal safety practices can lower your own risk of being infected and can help protect others. All members of the Loyola community are expected to follow these practices while on any of the University's campuses. Face masks or face coverings must be worn by all students, faculty, and staff while on any of Loyola's campuses, when in the presence of others, in classrooms, and in public settings where other social distancing measures are difficult to maintain. Appropriate use of face masks or coverings is critical in minimizing the risks to others around you, as you can spread COVID-19 to others even if you do not feel sick. To keep the community safe, all Ramblers should get boosted as soon as they are eligible, wear high-quality masks over their mouths and noses, and test often. N95 masks are available for pick up at each on-campus testing site. Please be sure to review all LUC REQUIRED Safety Protocols.

*COVID-19 Reporting Protocol: If you test positive for COVID-19, continue to follow the University's Positive Diagnosis Protocol and report your case to the University immediately by contacting COVID-19report@LUC.edu or by calling 773-508-7707.

*Exposure notification process update: Given the high transmission rate of the Omicron variant in Chicago, contact tracing is not pragmatic or effective at this time. Our COVID Care Coordinators will suspend contact tracing, and will focus on those diagnosed with COVID-19. Students, faculty, and staff who test positive for COVID-19 will be responsible for notifying their contacts; close contacts should monitor symptoms and test 5 days after exposure. Those not comfortable with identifying themselves can use solutions like Tell Your Contacts to report anonymously.

Session Information

Spring PLC falls during the last three weeks of the spring semester. This semester, all 3 sessions will be in-person. Reading posted on Sakai need to be completed before class and collaborative work and discussions will take place during class times. Dates are indicated in the calendar of the syllabus.

Session Description

Professional learning communities (PLCs) serve as the touchstone of teaching and learning in the Teaching, Learning, and Leading with Schools and Communities (TLLSC) teacher preparation program, bringing together all ECSE teacher candidates to share and co-construct knowledge, skills, and dispositions related to each field-based ECSE sequence. By working in small groups of colleagues and peers, learning is emergent, targeted, and collaborative. Facilitated by ECSE faculty, the PLCs serve as communities of practice where candidates come together to (a) share learning from their school- and community-based experiences, (b) synthesize learning through reflection and discussion, and (c) apply learning through completion of sequence summative assessments. In this way, candidates come together to make meaning of their learning in the field in order to increase their content and pedagogical expertise.

The topic for the Spring 2022 ECSE PLC will be: Teaching Strategies for Children with Autism Spectrum Disorder. Throughout the PLC coursework, students will develop an understanding of different types of instructional approaches, the pros and cons of each approach, and how to select instructional approaches (in conjunction with active family participation) to best match student needs.

Essential Questions and Enduring Understandings

Essential questions:

- What are the key factors of teaching, learning, and leading with schools and communities?
- How does theory connect with your learning and experiences in your sequences?
- How do sequence learning and experiences connect with past learning and experiences?
- How will you use your learning to guide subsequent problem-solving as an early childhood educator?
- What are the connections between your learning and experiences across this sequence and professionalism in service of social justice?
- What goals do you have for future learning in your specialty area to increase your expertise as an educator of young children birth to age 8?

As a part of this experience, candidates will understand that effective educators:

- Enact principles of social justice in the school and community by focusing on the intellectual, social and emotional development of all students, promoting human rights, reducing inequalities, and increasing the empowerment of society's most vulnerable groups (EU1).
- Engage and promote reflection and collaboration among teachers, students, administrators, families and communities to improve achievement for all students (EU2).
- Utilize information from theories and related research-based practices when making decisions and taking action in their professional practice (EU10).

As a part of this experience, candidates will:

- Use goals and procedures to guide PLC dialogue and to synthesize and make meaning of the learning and experiences across sequences.
- Engage in collaborative discussion and learning related to teaching, learning, and leading, as well as professionalism in service of social justice.
- Engage in dialog and make connections between sequence learning and experiences with pertinent theories and principles in early childhood education.
- Complete the sequence summative assessments for your current TLLSC sequence with individualized support from ECSE faculty.

Digication SmartEvals Objectives and CampusLabs link:

All candidates must have a functioning Digication account to receive credit for the PLC. For the purposes of course evaluations, as a result of this experience, candidates will:

- Gain factual knowledge (terminology, classifications, methods, trends)

- Acquire an interest in learning more by asking questions and seeking answers.

SOE Vision

The School of Education of Loyola University Chicago is a community that seeks to transform members to impact local and global communities through the principles of social justice.

School of Education Mission

The School of Education at Loyola University Chicago, a Jesuit Catholic urban university, supports the Jesuit ideal of knowledge in the service of humanity. We endeavor to advance professional education in service of social justice, engaged with Chicago, the nation, and the world. To achieve this vision, the School of Education participates in the discovery, development, demonstration, and dissemination of professional knowledge and practice within a context of ethics, service to others, and social justice. We fulfill this mission by preparing professionals to serve as teachers, administrators, psychologists, and researchers who work across the developmental continuum, and by conducting research on issues of professional practice and social justice.

Grading and Assessment

- Grading: This course will be graded on a Pass/Fail basis, based solely upon the quality and timeliness of your submitted work.
- Attendance: The PLC will consist of three sets of activities - lecture, collaborative group work and presentation, Q&A session with guest speaker. These activities will differ each week. Completing each activity will meet the PLC attendance requirement. Missing any one will be considered an absence and will result in a grade of NP for the PLC. The PLC is worth a total of 1 credit hour. This credit hour is assigned at the end of the spring semester (because the Office of Registration and records does not allow half credit hours) but reflects attendance in both fall and spring. The ECSE attendance policy is as follows:

- Participation: Completing the assigned activities according to their provided expectations will meet the Participation requirement for the spring PLC.
- Assessment: During the PLCs and in conjunction with sequence summative assessments, candidates will reflect upon personal and professional learning during that semester, specifically on Conceptual Framework Standards 1 (synthesizing their learning about teaching, learning, and leading with schools and communities) and 6 (collaborating with peers and making decisions about practice to model professionalism in service of social justice). PLCs include readings and professional development, and other that are all form the basis candidate grades.

PLC Assignments

These are located in the PLC calendar at the end of this syllabus. You must complete all activities or you will receive a grade of NP for the PLC.

Rules for Inquiry Group Membership

- Each student in the PLC needs to sign up for a group and work time will be provided the second week of class. A sign-up sheet will be email and is also posted on Sakai. Please contact the professor if you have not signed up for a group.
- Each of the 6 groups must include at least one senior (entering S7 in the fall) and one junior (entering S5 in the fall).
- Each group must contain at least two candidates from S1-3.

*Each group will be provided a student profile and some initial resources. The group will then work together to create instructional activities for this student. Each group will have 20 minutes to present their instructional activities during the PLC face-to-face class times. The presentation will consist of (1) a description of the child's visual schedule, (2) a completed structured task matched to the student's instructional needs and developmental profile, (3) a PLAY profile and activities matched to move the student FDL up, and (4) a description of how a specific skill can be taught using ABA methodology.

Session Experiences – All PLCs

PLCs, by nature, are flexible and responsive to your evolving needs. Whereas the introductory PLC of the academic year will be used to inform candidates about the pertinent PLC structure and relation to the overall TLLSC program, ongoing sessions are flexible based on candidates' needs.

What do I do if I have to miss a PLC session?

Note that you cannot miss the PLC session when you are presenting or you will receive a grade of NP for the PLC.

How to plan for a PLC absence or missing PLC activity:

1. Notify your instructor(s) via email in advance of the PLC session you must miss. If you miss a PLC session without prior notification, you will receive an automatic grade of NP for the PLC.
  2. Select a professional development session to attend/participate in. This session must be related to early childhood education; in other words, the specified audience must be teachers/interventionists who work with children from birth-age 8 only. Feel free to consult the websites of the Illinois Resource Center and the Illinois Early Intervention Training Program, as well as organizations such as StarNet, to find workshops or webinars. You may also check Early Childhood Investigations, the Erikson Institute, Pearson, or other organizations like NAEYC. Register for this session, which you must complete before the end of the PLC. In some cases, this may limit you to webinars, but if you are able to plan in advance you can attend in-person PD sessions as well. In the same email in which you notify your instructors of your absence, you should identify the specific PD session you plan to attend in order to substitute for the PLC session.
  3. Attend the PD session. Before the end of the last week of the PLC, you should upload the following to the Assignments section of your PLC's Sakai site:
    - a. A two-page synopsis describing the content of the PD. This should be written professionally, double-spaced in a 12-point font. Do not write in the first person. The audience for this synopsis includes your peers in the PLC, so you should write about the skills and knowledge from this session that are most relevant for future EC educators.
    - b. Any handouts from your session – these can be scanned and uploaded in the case of in-person sessions, or simply uploaded from webinars. If no handouts were provided, then include a detailed outline covering all of the session content from beginning to end.
    - c. Any evidence of completion from the session. Webinars may not provide these; however, in person sessions should.
  4. There is no need to notify your instructor(s) once these items have been uploaded. Sakai will do this automatically. However, your instructor(s) will share your resources with the entire PLC community once your resources are submitted. This way you will know that you have successfully completed the requirement. Your instructor(s) may also follow up and/or request resubmission/edits as needed.
  5. Note that this process applies to only one PLC session per semester. Missing more than one PLC session will result in an automatic grade of NP for that semester. There are no exceptions to this policy.

TLLSC Syllabus Statement

Academic Tutoring

Loyola provides several services to all students related to academic tutoring including : TAP/ACT/SAT preparation, an academic skills workshop, academic coaching (how to organize your work), and supplemental instruction for hard science classes.

<https://www.luc.edu/tutoring/>

Clinical Experiences and Course Contact Hours

Per university requirements, each credit hour of coursework should correspond to 12.5 hours or 750 minutes of contact time, which includes both on-campus coursework and clinical fieldwork. Any additional hours included in S4 are related to additional credentials beyond those offered by the SOE, including Gateways and Illinois EI Credentialing.

Please find the university policy here:

https://www.luc.edu/academics/catalog/undergrad/reg\_gradinsystem.shtml

English as a Second Language (ESL) Endorsement

By participating in TLLSC, all candidates complete the coursework and clinical hours to be eligible for ESL endorsements. The pertinent understandings, knowledge, and skills for teaching English learners (ELs) are targeted and integrated throughout the field-based program. In line with Part 27.425 of the Illinois Administrative Code, this module does not directly address standards to build candidates' expertise for teaching ELs.

Other Concerns

If you have concerns about the program, curriculum, or instruction, please talk to your instructor directly. If your concerns still linger after you have engaged in a direct discussion with your instructor, then you should contact the Teaching & Learning program chairperson at gwan1@luc.edu.

Managing Life Crisis and Finding Support

Should you encounter an unexpected crisis during the semester (i.e. securing food or housing, addressing mental health concerns, managing a financial crisis, and/or dealing with a family emergency, etc...), I strongly encourage you to contact the Office of the Dean of Students by submitting a CARE referral (www.luc.edu/csaa) for yourself or a peer in need of support. If you are uncomfortable doing so on your own, please know that I can submit a referral on your behalf--just email me or schedule a meeting with me during office hours. To learn more about the Office of the Dean of Students, please find their website here:

<https://luc.edu/dos/services/>.

Accommodations

Any student registered with Student Accessibility Center (<https://www.luc.edu/sac/>) who intends on using their accommodations must provide faculty with an accommodation letter (printed or via email). While students are encouraged to provide faculty with their letter during the first two weeks of classes, students can register with SAC at any point in the semester. Accommodations are not retroactive and should be provided with advanced notice in order for faculty to facilitate accommodations. If you have any questions about how to implement accommodations in your course, please contact SAC. SAC@luc.edu or 773-508-3700

School of Education Syllabus Addendum

- Smart Evaluation
- The SOE Statement on Conceptual Framework and Student Dispositions
- Digication
- Student Resources and Center for Student Access and Assistance (CSAA)
- Academic Honesty
- Accessibility
- EthicsLine Reporting Hotline
- Electronic Communication Policies and Guidelines

Smart Evaluation

Towards the end of the course, students will receive an email from the Office of Institutional Effectiveness reminding them to provide feedback on the course. They will receive consistent reminders throughout the period when the evaluation is open, and the reminders will stop once they have completed the evaluation.

- The evaluation is completely anonymous. When the results are released, instructors and departments will not be able to tell which student provided the individual feedback.
- Because it is anonymous and the results are not released to faculty or departments until after grades have been submitted, the feedback will not impact a student's grade.

The feedback is important so that the instructor can gain insight in to how to improve their teaching and the department can learn how best to shape the curriculum.

The 13 possible objectives you will select from are listed below:

1. Gaining a basic understanding of the subject (e.g., factual knowledge, methods, principles, generalizations, theories)
2. Developing knowledge and understanding of diverse perspectives, global awareness, or other cultures
3. Learning to apply course material (to improve thinking, problem solving, and decisions)
4. Developing specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course
5. Acquiring skills in working with others as a member of a team
6. Developing creative capacities (inventing; designing; writing; performing in art, music drama, etc.)
7. Gaining a broader understanding and appreciation of intellectual/cultural activity (music, science, literature, etc.)
8. Developing skill in expressing oneself orally or in writing
9. Learning how to find, evaluate and use resources to explore a topic in depth
10. Developing ethical reasoning and/or ethical decision making
11. Learning to analyze and critically evaluate ideas, arguments, and points of view
12. Learning to apply knowledge and skills to benefit others or serve the public good
13. Learning appropriate methods for collecting, analyzing, and interpreting numerical information

Dispositions

All students are assessed on one or more dispositional areas of growth across our programs: Professionalism, Inquiry, and Social Justice. The instructor in your course will identify the dispositions assessed in this course and you can find the rubrics related to these dispositions in LiveText. For those students in non-degree programs, the rubric for dispositions may be available through Sakai, TaskStream or another platform. Disposition data is reviewed by program faculty on a regular basis. This allows faculty to work with students to develop throughout their program and address any issues as they arise.

Digication

Digication is Loyola's ONLINE portfolio platform. Many of the School of Education programs utilize Digication for Assessment and data collection to manage accreditation and licensure requirements. Your professor and Program chair will work with you to better understand submission requirements that are specific to courses and programs.

Additional ONLINE Course Policies

*Privacy Statement

Assuring privacy among faculty and students engaged in online and face-to-face instructional activities helps promote open and robust conversations and mitigates concerns that comments made within the context of the class will be shared beyond the classroom. As such, recordings of instructional activities occurring in online or face-to-face classes may be used solely for internal class purposes by the faculty member and students registered for the course, and only during the period in which the course is offered. Students will be informed of such recordings by a statement in the syllabus for the course in which they will be recorded. Instructors who wish to make subsequent use of recordings that include student activity may do so only with informed written consent of the students involved or if all student activity is removed from the recording. Recordings including student activity that have been initiated by the instructor may be retained by the instructor only for individual use.

*Synchronous Meetings

All information on synchronous, asynchronous, and other meetings and course activities are included on the Sequence calendar.

*Class Conduct

One important aspect of a Jesuit education is learning to respect the rights and opinions of others. Please respect others by (1) allowing all classmates the right to voice their opinions without fear of ridicule, and (2) not using profanity or making objectionable (gendered, racial or ethnic) comments, especially comments directed at a classmate.

*Student Support

Special Circumstances--Receiving Assistance

Students are urged to contact me should they have questions concerning course materials and procedures. If you have any special circumstance that may have some impact on your course work, please let me know so we can establish a plan for assignment completion. If you require assignment accommodations, please contact me early in the semester so that arrangements can be made with Student Accessibility Center \(SAC\) (<http://www.luc.edu/sac/>).

*Center for Student Access and Assistance (CSAA)

Should you encounter an unexpected crisis during the semester (e.g., securing food or housing, addressing mental health concerns, managing a financial crisis, and/or dealing with a family emergency, etc.), I strongly encourage you to contact the Office of the Dean of Students by submitting a CARE Referral for yourself or a peer in need of support: www.LUC.edu/csaa. If you are uncomfortable doing so on your own, please know that I can submit a referral on your behalf.

This link directs students to statements on essential policies regarding academic honesty, accessibility, ethics line reporting and electronic communication policies and guidelines. We ask that you read each policy carefully.

Diversity

PLCs provide candidates with the opportunity to engage in collaboration with a community of learners – discussing and making meaning of all learning and experiences in schools and communities. Additionally, teacher candidates will engage in reflection and response in relation to professionalism in service of social justice. With this in mind, teacher candidates will consistently engage in dialogue around the diverse students (including those with special education needs and those who are English language learners), classrooms, schools, families, and communities with which they engaged in the prior sequence, as well as connect and reflect upon those experiences in relation to their own professional practice as a future urban teacher.
