Do you believe in the power of art to inspire, connect, and transform?
Are you interested in harnessing your creativity to make an impact?
Whether your passion is dance, music, theatre, or the visual arts, you'll find your place here.

The Department of Fine and Performing Arts in the College of Arts and Sciences offers:

- ARTIST-IN-RESIDENCE PROGRAM Every year, the Department of Fine Arts invites an accomplished artist to reside on campus. You'll get the unique opportunity to meet them, learn from them, and even make art with them! Depending on their field, the artist will work with Loyola students to put on a new dance performance, exhibition, recital, concert, or play.
- AMAZING FACILITIES Our campus has so many spaces and halls for performances and exhibitions. This includes the Newhart Family Theatre, the Underground Laboratory Theatre, Jo Ann Rooney Hall, Ralph Arnold Gallery, and Loyola University Museum of Art (LUMA).
- INTERDISCIPLINARY LEARNING It's a big thing here at Loyola. Interdisciplinary learning lets you explore multiple fields and broadens your perspective.

As part of the Core Curriculum, you'll take classes in art, history, math, science, philosophy, and more. You'll also have the opportunity to double major or minor in another field if you so choose.

- PERFORMANCES AND ART EVENTS We have over 80 performances, concerts and gallery exhibitions every year that are connected to our academic programs and courses. You can either participate or be an audience member. Check out some of our events here: LUC.edu/shows
- PERFECT LOCATION Chicago and its neighborhoods have a vibrant fine and performing arts scene, and you'll be in the middle of it all. You'll draw from and engage with the city's rich professional community of artists and performers, offering opportunities for networking and connection.
