A conversation with
Dr. Marcella Alsan

Join us for a talk on women in STEM, social justice, and racial health inequity sponsored by LUC INSPIRED-NSF ADVANCE and the Stritch School of Medicine.

Dr. Marcella Alsan is an economist and physician investigating the role that legacies of discrimination and resulting mistrust play in perpetuating racial disparities in healthcare. She is a 2021 MacArthur Fellow and holds degrees from Harvard University and Loyola University Chicago.

MARCH 29 • 4:00 TO 5:30 PM IN THE DAMEN MPR OR VIA ZOOM

REGISTER AT HTTPS://TINYURL.COM/2TY8R8XR