

CERTIFICATE IN PRIVACY LAW

The Certificate in Privacy Law is directed toward legal and non-legal professionals seeking education and training on key U.S. and international privacy laws. Practical in application, this certificate will help students develop the skills necessary to manage organizational privacy programs.

CURRICULUM

The Certificate in Privacy Law program requires completion of 8 total credit hours of coursework. Courses cover a variety of topics, including privacy program management, U.S. and international privacy law, and breach management. Students who successfully complete this program may be eligible to apply to Loyola's Master of Jurisprudence ("MJ") or Master of Laws ("LLM") programs in business or health law.

EXPECTATIONS AFTER GRADUATION

Privacy law is a growing field, both nationally and internationally. Privacy associations confirm that the demand for certification, the number of privacy jobs, and the average salary for those with certification continue to increase annually.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

You may start your studies during any of our three online terms (spring, summer or fall) and pace your studies as you wish, taking up to all eight credits in a single term or a minimum of two credits (one course) per term.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

You are required to submit a resume and transcripts showing that you have completed a degree at the bachelor's level or higher with a 2.0 grade point average.
