

Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP), Adult Gerontology Clinical Nurse Specialist (AGCNS)

The DNP AGCNS track will prepare you to develop, deliver, and evaluate evidence-based care of adults at the highest level of nursing practice. You'll build the advanced skills and knowledge to lead organizational change through coordinating quality care practices, best practice initiatives, and cost-effective quality improvement. A Specialization in Oncology is also available.

Eligibility

- BSN or MSN degree ✓
- An Illinois RN license, ALCS, and CCRN certification ✓
- 2,000 hours of recent clinical practice experience prior to starting program practicums ✓

Learn more
LUC.edu/nursing

Courses and hands-on experience

3-5 years
Completion time, full- or part-time

Online format

Grow your expertise

- Learning how to integrate the best evidence and patient preferences into the development, delivery, and evaluation of care ✓
- Customized clinical placements with expert practitioners ✓
- Managing health and illness in adult and gerontologic populations ✓
- Courses in population health, leadership, and translating evidence into practice ✓
- Collaborating with inter-professional teams in addressing patient care issues ✓

After you graduate

Eligibility for the GP board certification exam

Obtain APRN license

Scan me for more information

Contact us: gpem@luc.edu or 312.915.7900

Loyola University Chicago is an equal opportunity educator/employer.
Read our full non-discrimination policy at <https://www.LUC.edu/nondiscrimination.shtml>.

Preparing people to lead extraordinary lives