

Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) in Systems Leadership

Healthcare needs well-prepared nursing leaders. Loyola's Systems Leadership DNP program builds on your knowledge and experience, equipping you with the highest level of nursing practice well as the skills to lead and transform systems in the healthcare field.

Prepare your application

Personal statement and CV ✓

Transcripts of all college-level courses ✓

Two letters of reference ✓

RN License ✓

Learn more LUC.edu/nursing

Taking classes

2-3 years

Completion time

All online courses

Online Courses with 4 Immersion Weekends

Grow your expertise in

Healthcare economics and policy ✓

Leadership ✓

Population health ✓

Project development and implementation ✓

Quality and safety improvement ✓

Social justice ✓

Systems thinking ✓

After you graduate

Greater earning power

Increased professional opportunities

Lead teams that address healthcare issues

Safety ✓

Quality ✓

Disparities ✓

Scan me for more information

Contact us: gpem@luc.edu or 312.915.7900

Loyola University Chicago is an equal opportunity educator/employer.
Read our full non-discrimination policy at <https://www.LUC.edu/nondiscrimination.shtml>.

