

Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP), Women's Health Nurse Practitioner

The DNP Women's Health track will prepare you to practice at the highest level of nursing in a women's health care setting. You'll develop the advanced skills and knowledge to provide compassionate, holistic care for women puberty through adulthood, from private practice to community health to specialty clinics.

Eligibility

- BSN or MSN degree ✓
- Current nursing License ✓
- 2,000 hours of recent clinical practice experience prior to starting program practicums ✓

Learn more
LUC.edu/nursing

Courses and hands-on experience

3-5 years

Completion time, full- or part-time

Hybrid format

Grow your expertise

- Develop your theoretical, conceptual, and evidence-based foundations for advanced practice nursing care of women in primary care settings ✓
- Customized clinical placements with expert practitioners ✓
- Educate women on disease prevention and healthy lifestyle measures ✓
- Immersion and simulation days with classmates and faculty ✓
- Manage women's health across the lifespan, including pregnancy and menopause ✓
- Advanced sexual health, reproductive health, prenatal, gynecological, and advanced postpartum care ✓

After you graduate

Eligibility for the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) certification exam

Obtain APRN license

Contact us: gpem@luc.edu or 312.915.7900

Scan me for more information

Loyola University Chicago is an equal opportunity educator/employer.
Read our full non-discrimination policy at <https://www.LUC.edu/nondiscrimination.shtml>.

Preparing people to lead extraordinary lives