

RN-to-MSN (MSN)

Concentration in Nursing and Health Care Administration

Loyola's RN to MSN program is an opportunity for you to earn a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) and Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) with a concentration in Nursing and Health Care Administration in an accelerated time frame.

Prepare your application

Associate Degree in Nursing (ADN) or Diploma in Nursing ✓

RN license from a U.S. state ✓

Learn more
LUC.edu/nursing

Taking classes

2.5-6 years

Completion time, full- or part-time

Online courses

Including an in-person Immersion Weekend

Grow your expertise in

- Health policy issues
- Collaborating within health care teams to affect positive patient outcomes
- Promoting health and quality of life in communities
- Integrating evidence-based research into practice
- Leadership best practices
- Budget management

After you graduate

Greater earning power

Increased professional opportunities

Assume key roles in a variety of health care settings

Scan me for more information

Contact us: gpem@luc.edu or 312.915.7900

Loyola University Chicago is an equal opportunity educator/employer.
Read our full non-discrimination policy at <https://www.LUC.edu/nondiscrimination.shtml>.

Preparing people to lead extraordinary lives