2022-2023 UPCOMING PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT EVENTS

The Graduate School and our partners will be offering many professional development events specifically tailored to graduate student needs in the coming academic year. Keep an eye on your weekly Graduate School Announcements email and our calendar at https://www.luc.edu/gradschool for up-to-date information about these and other exciting events!

Grant Writing for the Humanities & Other Disciplines

September 23, October 21, and November 18, 2022
11:00AM-12:30PM

In this three part virtual series, learn how to:

- Search for grant opportunities,
- Develop fundable ideas for research projects,
- Understand RFPs,
- Create budgets and administrative structures,
- Manage projects in a grant cycle,
- Write winning grant applications

No grant-writing experience necessary. Open to all students in The Graduate School. The main focus will be toward the Humanities with best practices useful for all disciplines. This program provided thanks to a grant from the Council of Graduate Schools Humanities Coalition. Facilitated by Dr. Elizabeth Hopwood, Center for Textual Studies and Digital Humanities, Loyola University Chicago.

Careers Beyond Academia: A Discussion with LUC PhD Alumni
Speaker TBA

Coming in October 2022

Translating Academic Experience for Non-Academic Positions: Cover Letters and Resumes

October 4, 2022
1:00-2:00PM

Presented in partnership with The Career Development Center

Synthesizing your academic experiences into strong application materials for jobs beyond the academy can be challenging. This virtual workshop will provide guidance for how to incorporate your transferable skills into a resume and cover letter.

Making a Statement

Coming in November/December 2022

Thinking about applying to academic jobs, internal and external fellowships? The Graduate School will offer a workshop for graduate students applicable for personal, research, and teaching statements that can be used for job searches, fellowships, assistantships, and scholarships. Assistant Dean Heather Sevener will lead this workshop in time for fellowship application season, which will include tips and strategies followed by a Q&A.