Career Development Center
Walk-In Hours: Monday - Thursday, 1:30-3:30 p.m. in Sullivan 295
The best way for students to begin working with the Career Development Center is to visit our walk-in hours for a quick conversation. Depending on the student's needs, they will then be referred to our workshops or to set up a longer advising appointment. Walk-ins are great for resume critiques or an overview of our services and resources.

Fellowship Office
The Sullivan Center welcomes Dr. Jim Calcagno and the Fellowship Office located in Sullivan 285. Under the direction of James Calcagno, Ph.D., Professor of Anthropology, the Fellowship Office will provide advice and workshops for students who wish to pursue competitive external fellowships, such as the Fulbright, Marshall, Truman, Rhodes, Goldwater, and Ford fellowship and scholars programs.

First Year Experience
This past summer over 2500 first year students attended Orientation. In order to engage and create experiences that are unforgettable but also help in aiding a successful start at Loyola, we have been surveying first year students on their experience at Orientation. The evaluations can be found at http://www.luc.edu/firstyearexperience/Discover_Loyola_Feedback.shtml.

First-Year students also took the President's Survey this past month relating to their interactions with various university departments and services. The Office of First-Year Experience is currently coordinating efforts to reach out to students who indicated a need for help with various issues. We will be calling on various departments for your assistance in following up with those students who need help.

October is IGNATIAN HERITAGE MONTH

Ignatian Heritage Month is a celebration of the living legacy of Ignatius Loyola [1491-1556] founder of the Society of Jesus [1540] and Patron of Loyola University Chicago.

Ignatian Heritage Month provides our Loyola community with a variety of events and activities which explore the diversity of this living legacy, as handed down to us in the 468 year old Jesuit tradition. The Loyola University Chicago Mission statement serves as the general theme for this month long celebration of learning, justice and faith.

Whether in celebrating our university community as a true home for all faiths, learning more about an issue of faith, of justice, personal calling or serving people in need, we invite the entire Loyola community to explore and recognize the diverse gifts we receive from the living legacy of Ignatius Loyola.

See the University Calendar for more information about upcoming Ignatian Heritage Month events.
