PUBLICATIONS

Books:

THE LAW OF BIODIVERSITY AND ECOSYSTEM MANAGEMENT (4th ed.) (Foundation Press University Casebook Series, 2019) (with John Copeland Nagle and J.B. Ruhl)

A PRACTICAL INTRODUCTION TO ENVIRONMENTAL LAW (Casebook with Joel Mintz, John Dernbach, Steve Gold, Cliff Villa, and Wendy Wagner) (Carolina Academic Press, 2017)

THE LAW AND POLICY OF ENVIRONMENTAL FEDERALISM: A COMPARATIVE ANALYSIS (Edward Elgar Publishing, Kalyani Robbins ed., 2016) (edited collection with chapters by William L. Andreen, William W. Buzbee, Ann Carlson, Kirsten H. Engel, Robert L. Glicksman, Keith H. Hirokawa, Blake Hudson, Alice Kaswan, Alexandra B. Klass, Jonathan Rosenbloom, Erin Ryan, Hannah Wiseman, as well as several leading international scholars). Critical acclaim:

- “This book is an extraordinary piece of scholarship by top experts in the field. It challenges conventional assumptions concerning environmental federalism and offers new insights into the effects of law and policy on intergovernmental relations. The book explores how climate change is posing novel challenges to federal/state relations and it provides valuable comparative perspectives based on experience in other countries.”
– Robert V. Percival, University of Maryland
- “While much of the debate about federalism in environmental law has been focused on pollution laws in the United States, this book covers the full range of environmental issues and looks beyond US borders. The Law and Policy of Environmental Federalism makes it clear that the previous focus on pollution laws provided only a partial glimpse of the federalism issues.”
– Daniel Farber, University of California, Berkeley

THE LAW OF BIODIVERSITY AND ECOSYSTEM MANAGEMENT (3rd ed.) (Foundation Press University Casebook Series, 2013) (with John Copeland Nagle and J.B. Ruhl)

Adler, Jamison E. Colburn, Robert B. Keiter, Judith A. Layzer, Martin Nie, Daniel J. Rohlf, J.B. Ruhl, Lynn Scarlett, and co-authoring pairs Susan G. Clark & David N. Cherney; Sara O’Brien & Sara Vickerman; and Deborah McGrath & Travis Greenwalt)

Book in Progress:

ECOSYSTEM SERVICES PROPERTY: ECONOMICS, OBLIGATIONS, AND RECIPROCITY

In spite of a recent boom in the ecosystem services economy there has been very little scholarly exploration into how we identify property interests in ecosystem services. This book, already well underway, tackles the topic of ecosystem services property from many angles.
