

IMPACTFUL FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP: Appointments, accomplishments, and accolades

The law faculty at Loyola University Chicago are committed to research with impact. Over the past 12 months, they have spoken at conferences and symposia around the world and have published books and articles on a dazzling array of cutting-edge topics. In addition to their outstanding publications and presentations on emerging trends in the law, Loyola faculty members are contributing to society and advancing knowledge in other meaningful ways.

HERE IS AN IMPRESSIVE LIST OF SOME OF OUR FACULTY APPOINTMENTS, ACCOMPLISHMENTS, AND ACCOLADES IN 2019:

- Professor Spencer Waller consulted with Senator Warren's legislative staff to develop new antimonopoly legislation;
- Professor Sarah Waldeck wrote an opinion piece for The Conversation on the impact of a new federal tax on university and college endowments;
- Professor Alexander Tsesis was appointed as the General Series Editor of the Oxford Theoretical Perspectives in Law;
- Professor Nadia Sawicki served as the section editor of Jotwell Health Law, as an adviser to American Law Institute Restatement of the Law 3d, Torts, and as a member of the Illinois General Assembly Home Birth Maternity Care Crisis Study Committee;
- Director of Graduate Legal Studies Karen Shaw served as the chair of the Association of American Law Schools Section for Post-Graduate Legal Education, and as deputy editor for the ABA Section of International Law Year;
- Professor Matthew Sag wrote an op-ed for the Washington Post about recent changes in oral argument at the U.S. Supreme Court;
- Associate Professor Stephen Rushin was appointed to the editorial board for Law & Social Inquiry;
- Professor Hank Rose submitted a public comment on HUD's proposed rule that will weaken disparate impact liability under the federal Fair Housing Act;
- Professor Anne-Marie Rhodes was selected as an arbitrator for the Court of Arbitration for Art;
- Professor Kalyani Robbins was selected as a finalist for the Land Use & Environment Law Review annual compendium of the most significant legal scholarship in land use and environmental/energy law, and served as an advisory panel member and editor for Feminist Judgments: Rewritten Property Opinions;
- Professor Jordan Paradise chaired the AALS Section on BioLaw, served as an editorial board member for the American Health Lawyers Association's Journal of Health and Life Sciences Law and as a committee member on the Academic Programming committee for the Food and Drug Law Institute;
- Professor Charles (Bud) Murdock was appointed to the ISBA Business and Securities Law Council;
- Professor Margaret Moses served as a final arbitrator at the Vis Moot Competition in Vienna;
- Distinguished Professor in Residence Paul Kantwill saw his research adopted as the bipartisan proposed Veterans and Consumer Fair Credit Act;
- Clinical Professor Miranda Johnson published op-eds in the Chicago Tribune and for the American Bar Association Children's Rights Litigation Committee;
- Director of Academic Success and Bar Programs Melissa Hale was elected as Secretary of the AALS section on Academic Support and served as a contributing editor to the Academic Support Blog;
- Professor James Gathii co-founded Afronomicslaw, a blog on African International Economic Law (at Afronomicslaw.org), organized the African Consultation Forum on the Legal Guide on Agricultural Land Investment Contracts in Nairobi, Kenya, was appointed to the Advisory Board of the International Journal of Constitutional Law, and served as an expert member to the Institute of Private International Law (UNIDROIT), Food and Agricultural Organization, (FAO), and International Fund for Food and Development, (IFAD);
- Distinguished Lecturer in Residence James Hagy served on the editorial board member and as a peer reviewer for Corporate Real Estate Journal and Journal of Corporate Real Estate; and
- Associate Professor John Dehn was appointed to the Editorial Board of Public Integrity and the Editorial Committee of the Journal of International Criminal Justice.