

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Children's Legal Rights Journal is seeking submissions on the impact of COVID-19 on children's education.

The Children's Legal Rights Journal (CLRJ) is a national scholarly journal sponsored by Loyola University Chicago School of Law with the National Association of Counsel for Children. We publish articles covering a variety of children's legal rights issues and are the only journal in the country that exclusively addresses the legal needs of children.

What We Are Looking For:

We invite you to submit articles addressing the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on children's education. With the shutdown of schools, some students, particularly those from low-income families and those experiencing homelessness, have experienced greater disruptions in their education and access to basic resources like school lunches. Additionally, many children with learning disabilities have had extreme difficulty accessing additional resources to continue their education. We encourage submissions to include an analysis of how race factors into these issues.

Submission Details

- ◆ Submissions should be previously unpublished, original work.
- ◆ All articles should be between 15-60 pages double spaced and contain footnote citations that conform to The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation.
- ◆ Submissions from current law students will not be accepted.
- ◆ Submissions will be reviewed and accepted on a rolling basis for Volume 41 issues.

Contact Information

If you would like to submit an article or if you have any questions, please contact our Marketing Editor, Alexandra Spognardi, at CLRJsubmissions@luc.edu.