In this class, you will take your exams remotely and they will be proctored by a service called Examity. Examity proctoring adheres to the University’s policies on the safety and security of personally identifying information, and is a tool used to ensure the academic integrity of our online courses.

As part of the proctoring process, a professional at Examity will use a camera and microphone to monitor your activity and your computer screen while you take your exam, and a recording of your activity and your screen will be made. These recordings will be made available only to the instructor of your course for review, and are destroyed shortly after the course is complete. For more information regarding what to expect when having your exam proctored, visit the Loyola Online proctoring web page.

Detailed instructions on how to use Examity will be provided to you when the course begins; please log in as soon as possible after receiving these instructions to set up your profile.

To use Examity, you will need to make sure you meet the following technical requirements:

- You must take your exam on a computer with a webcam and a microphone (both built-in and external are fine); you can check this at www.testmycam.com.
- You must use a desktop computer or laptop (not a tablet or mobile device).
- You must take your exam from a location with sufficient internet speed: at least 2 MPS upload and download speed. You can test your internet speed at http://www.speedtest.net.

If you have any questions or concerns, you can contact Examity’s technical support team 24/7 via email at support@examity.com or phone at (855)-392-6489.
