An education of the “whole person”

The Next Generation Leadership Institute (NGLI) prepares family business leaders to better ensure successful transition, growth of the business, family harmony and personal fulfillment. Through a powerful network of learning and support, this one-of-a-kind program helps participants develop and practice their own leadership style and skills, design leadership development plans, and increase their effectiveness as family business leaders.

This 18-month course is designed specifically for 25- to 45-year-olds in current managerial roles who will assume top leadership roles in their family or business in the near future. NGLI graduates come away with a strong sense of their strengths and areas needing improvement, as well as a better understanding of their family culture and a clearer vision for the business. They will also have a customized Leadership Development Plan and an extensive network of resources and support.
