Summer Academic Internship in Rome at a glance
Loyola University Chicago

The JFRC Summer Internship Program provides students a unique opportunity to intern internationally by enabling them to engage fully in an Italian workplace setting for 8 weeks. This program enables students to

- 1- develop their professional skills to communicate across cultures and
- 2- reflect on the international internship experience both professionally and personally. The Italian (language) component provides basic knowledge of business language skills that will be put into practice at the internship site and enhances the overall experience in their host country.

Outcome: A global working experience complete with relevant language learning.

Length: 8 weeks

Dates 2018: May 21 through July 14, 2018

Contact: Nadia Cristiani, Academic Internship Coordinator ncristiani@luc.edu

Students will enroll for two required courses:

- ROST 370 International Internship: Focus on Rome
- Ital 300 Applied Italian for the Workplace

Students work Monday through Thursday at their international internship placement and meet in the evening two days a week for class. Weekends (Friday-Sundays) are free for exploring Rome and other places in Italy and Europe.

- Internship placement on-site: 230 hours
- In-class hybrid seminar, consisting of meetings for both Italian language and internship reflection: 40 hours
- Total hours: 270 hours during 8 weeks for 6 credits

The internship placements include, but are not limited to, the following organizations:
