LUC Education in ITALY

Italy: Summer 2019

This ten day study abroad program is specifically designed for Education majors as a section of Philosophy of Education (ELPS 302) at Loyola’s Rome Center. Rome is an excellent site in which to teach Philosophy of Education, as its rich history, public buildings, and art collections illustrate longstanding Western ideas about what it means to be a person living in a diverse polis. Classes will mostly be taught at sites throughout the city, with students reading and discussing classic and contemporary texts in philosophy of education.

For more information, please contact the program faculty leader
Dr. Amy Shuffelton ashuffe@luc.edu

Costs
$1,750 faculty-led program fee plus
3 credits of LUC tuition and fees

Included in Costs
- Lodging, some meals, excursions, and more!

When
May 2019

Apply now at LUC.edu/studyabroad

Limited space! APPLY TODAY!