This course will immerse you in the field of global environmental ethics in Kenya. You will visit the capital of Kenya, Nairobi, as well as Kisumu, and the Masai Mara, one of the most famous natural game reserves in the world. Academic excursions into city slums, rural environments, and nature reserves will be coupled with daily discussions, and lectures from local philosophers, community leaders, and public health and conservation experts, with a special focus on the relation between poverty and the environment, public health and the environment, the value of nature, and animal rights.

For more information, please contact the program faculty leader
Dr. Thomas Derdak tderdak@luc.edu

Costs
$2,350 faculty-led program fee plus 3 credits of LUC tuition and fees

Included in Costs
Lodging, some meals, excursions, and more!

When
Summer 2020
Applications due November 15, 2019

Apply now at LUC.edu/studyabroad