LUC Political Science in Cuba

Cuba: Summer 2019

This course provides students the opportunity to witness Cuba's unique political system firsthand. Cuba is of particular interest not just because it is one of a few surviving communist systems but also because it represents a revolutionary government whose stated goal is social justice. Additionally, the recent reestablishment of diplomatic relations with the United States, brokered by Pope Francis, have raised Cuba's profile in the world stage. Part of the course will be service learning as students visit a school and a clinic to provide donations and learn about the pros and cons of Cuba's educational and medical system.
