Great Pacific Garbage Patch

Experience a little bit of Everywhere
Pacific Travel Poster
Author: Limb’rin Ostergaard
From: Prairie Ridge High School, Illinois

The poster was made in Adobe Illustrator. It is a satiric travel poster for the great Pacific garbage patch, made mostly to highlight the immense amount of waste in our oceans, but also poking at how people crave escaping to exotic remote locations and then have no regard for the location. Not realizing how their actions destroy the place they are visiting is leading to the eventuality that one day all of the coasts will look like this: full of trash and dirty black water.