THE ECO-STEWARDS PROGRAM PRESENTS

creativity and power: theological reflection and action on climate change

June 13-18, 2016 Seattle, WA

Join us for a place-based learning week as we delve into the climate justice movement through the lens of faith. Meeting at the current nexus of energy debates and hopes for a more sustainable tomorrow, we’ll consider how local faith based communities are responding to the challenges of energy in creative, inspiring ways: battling powers of coal, oil and gas with the new alternative powers of wind, sun and water. We’ll also reflect on Pope Francis’ clarion invitation—in his encyclical Laudato Si’—to care for Our Common Home and explore how our own Eco-Faith journeys can inform our work as stewards of creation.

See www.ecostewardsprogram.wordpress.com for information and an application.

The Eco-Stewards Program is a grassroots community that shapes young adult leaders (ages 20-30) through place-based experiences that connect faith and the environment.
