FOUNDATIONAL ACADEMIC AND LEARNING SUPPORT RESOURCES

Supplemental Instruction (SI) SI consists of regularly scheduled, out-of-class group study sessions driven by students' needs. Sessions are facilitated by trained peer leaders who attend class with you. Sessions are drop-in. View schedule → luc.edu/tutoring/SI

Group Tutoring Group tutoring consists of small groups of up to 8 students led by an undergraduate peer tutor. Appointments are required for all group tutoring and must be made 12 hours in advance. Bring your questions, notes, and textbooks. Sign up on TutorTrac → luc.edu/tutoring/peertutoring

Success Coaching One-on-one appointments will help you work on executive functioning, time management, reading comprehension, managing stress, and much more. Appointment is required. Sign up on TutorTrac → luc.edu/tutoring/successcoaching

Professors The Tutoring Center highly encourages you to connect with your professors and attend office hours. Professors are a great resource for help and comprehension of material.

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT TUTORING

In addition to the Tutoring Center's services, some academic departments provide free academic support for their various courses.

The American Chemical Society undergraduate student organization offers tutoring for General, Organic, Quantitative Analysis, Biochemistry, and Physical Chemistry classes.

The Computer Science Department Tutoring offers tutoring for students in COMP 125, 150, 163, 170, and 271 among others.

In partnership with the Language Learning Resource Center (LLRC), the Tutoring Center sponsors Language Tutoring for most languages offered.

The Loyola Mathematics and Statistics Club offers free tutoring to students who are in 100 and 200 level Mathematics and Statistics courses.

The Physics Club undergraduate student organization offers tutoring for various Physics classes.

Visit luc.edu/tutoring/subject-specificsupport for more information on locations and times.

THE WRITING CENTER

The Writing Center seeks to help all clients become better writers. They welcome all writers – undergraduate students, graduate students, faculty, staff members, and alumni – and offer comprehensive writing assistance, including appointments and written feedback.

LIBRARIES

Libraries are Loyola's gateway to the world of information and scholarship. Students can borrow books, ask for research assistance, use computer labs, and study individually or in group study rooms. Loyola also has libraries on the Water Tower Campus, the Maywood Campus, and the Rome Center. libraries.luc.edu

FAQ

What if there is not tutoring/SI for a particular class?

We recommend Success Coaching, professor office hours, or Writing Center (if applicable)! Students can also contact the Tutoring Center (tutoringcenter@luc.edu) to request tutoring. If 3+ students need tutoring for a class, the Tutoring Center will set-up a weekly group tutoring appointment.

Is one-on-one tutoring available?

No, the Tutoring Center offers group tutoring and SI as we believe students learn best from and with each other.

Is there tutoring on demand?!

No, peer tutoring appointments must be made in advance or we have drop-in, scheduled SI sessions.

A student needs assistance with time management, study strategies, etc. where should I refer them?

Please refer them to Success Coaching, which are one-on-one appointments with a graduate student Success Coach. Students can make unlimited appointments with our Coaches!
