Administrative History

Church Women United in Illinois (CWUI) is the state chapter of the national organization, Church Women United (CWU). CWU, established in 1941, is a volunteer interdenominational Christian women's movement comprised of women in the United States and Puerto Rico that works for peace and social justice. The fundamental purpose of CWU is to bring Christian women together, united in their faith, to work towards the betterment of the community and the development of women's full potential in society.

The Illinois state chapter began in 1931 as the Illinois Council of Federated Church Women and underwent several name changes: Illinois Council of Church Women (1936), United Council of Church Women (1941), and United Church Women (1956). In 1967, it became formally affiliated with Church Women United and changed its name to Church Women United in Illinois.

CWUI is part of the East Central region and divided into nine state areas with approximately 110 local chapters throughout the state. Each local unit has its own officers and committees, which join together annually at the State Assembly along with the organization's state officers and board members. The state level organization functions as a conduit between the local units and the national organization, channeling information, financial assistance, and support. CWUI members take part in ecumenical assemblies, area institutes and regional events for the Midwest. In conjunction with CWU, CWUI also participates in various annual activities, such as World Day of Prayer, May Fellowship Day, World Community Day, and Fellowship of the Least Coin. CWUI creates and hosts a variety of structured activities focused on developing women as leaders and promoting membership, engagement, and organizational revitalization such as the Women LinC, Seeding Sisterhood, and young women's initiatives.

CWUI's activities and campaigns reflect the priorities of the national organization as well as state issues, with topics including healthcare, education, poverty, racism, domestic violence, and human rights. Notable campaigns include their 1983-1993 mission to build a chapel at Dwight Correctional Center (the only women's prison in Illinois without one); fundraising for Generations of Hope, a multigenerational community for foster families; Fellowship of the Least Coin; and fundraising for the National Farm Worker Ministry. CWU and CWUI support other organizations, such as the National Farm Worker Ministry, the United Nations, and Women in Community Service. CWU publishes The Churchwoman, and CWUI publishes its own quarterly state newsletter, The Illinois Interpreter.

In 1983 CWUI started a mission to raise money to build a chapel at Dwight Correctional Center, the only women's prison in Illinois without a chapel. After a decade of fundraising, the chapel was completed in 1993. In cooperation with the Illinois Conference of Churches, CWUI has been involved with issues regarding domestic violence, aging, and the mentally handicapped. Through its involvement on the local level, CWUI continues to unite Christian women who work towards the betterment of Illinois communities.

This series contains Addendum 1, an accrual of materials that were processed but not incorporated with the series above. Similar and/or related materials listed above may also be found here. The materials were donated under the auspices of the secretary's files and contains the Executive Board files, officer's lists, by-laws, budgets, correspondence, publications, meeting minutes, State Assemblies, Leader's Councils, denominational leader's meetings, finance committee, the committee on nominations, various committee reports, and public activities.

Series 5: Addendum 2, 1957-2009, undated, Boxes 8-34

This series contains Addendum 2, another accrual of materials that were processed but not incorporated with the series above. Similar and/or related materials listed above may also be found here. This series spans 1957-2009, with the bulk of the records dating from 1990-2002 and is arranged into seven thematic series: Administrative History, Activities & Campaigns, Publications, Audiovisual Materials, Ephemera, Scrapbooks, and Restricted. All series are organized chronologically, and the majority of the collection corresponds to the history of CWUI.

Subseries 5.1: Administrative History, 1968-2009, undated, Boxes 8-17

Contains materials relating to the organization's history including state bylaws and job descriptions, lists of state and local officers, board meeting agendas, minutes and notes, committee agendas and reports and financial documents such as budgets and treasurer's reports. Other materials include unit, regional, area (Southeast), and officer handbooks; officer training materials; and state and national assembly materials. The board meeting and committee documents, treasurer reports, and regional/state assemblies are divided by year and arranged chronologically. The financial activities of CWUI are included with the treasurer reports and budgets/budget comparisons. Some of the information correlates specifically with the goals and history of the CWU national organization.

Subseries 5.2: Activities and Campaigns, 1957-2008, undated, Boxes 18-26

Contains materials relating to revitalization and leadership activities put on by CWUI, research and campaigns on social justice issues, and correspondence regarding the group's activities. A significant part of CWUI and CWU overall is their celebrations. Materials from the World Day of Prayer, May Fellowship, and World Community Day celebrations are organized chronologically; many years contain planning information from the national organization and programs from the state events. CWUI also maintained strong affiliations with other religious and social justice organizations such as the Church World Service, Illinois Council of Churches, United Methodist Women, and the United Nations through joint activities and membership. Organizational information for these groups is organized chronologically and then by organization. Correspondence includes communication with the national chapter regarding significant changes in leadership and financial challenges in early 2001.

Subseries 5.3: Publications, 1968-2008, undated, Boxes 26-30

Includes the Churchwoman, Illinois Interpreter, newsletters from other state and local CWU chapters, Wellspring, CWU press releases and other national publications, and miscellaneous publications that were sent to the CWUI chapter. Together with the related CWU collections, this presents nearly complete sets of the ChurchWoman and the Illinois Interpreter.

Subseries 5.4: Audiovisual, 1983-2006, undated, Boxes 30-32

Contains photographs, VHS videocassettes, and other audiovisual materials documenting the activities and interests of CWU. Notable items include slide presentations on CWU's history and World Day of Prayer, Valiant Woman Award recipient photographs, Dwight Correctional Center photographs, CWU's Seeding Sisterhood and Women LinC training videos, and video overview of CWU, and Generations of Hope project as featured on the Oprah television program.
