Each individual is a brick in the orbit of human endeavors which, together with others, form a social structure. The 20th century allowed to emerge the known powers, shiny bodies, from which radiates the revitalizing and beneficial warmth. One of these lights, by the spark of God which arose on the ground of the noblest emotions placed in the human heart - is a woman.

Formerly a slave, today liberated, trampled by centuries of darkness and brutal force, now exalted, she expands herself for recognition of her moral and spiritual strength, perhaps different, but essential, nevertheless. This recognition, won through her endeavors, flows from the unique individuals to the entire lineage of women, calling them to the ballot box - it expands the fields of her activity and shows the light paths of previously forbidden knowledge, as long as it corresponds to her spiritual and physical system. After such a great victory of the 20th century, won not by force of arms, but suffering, torment and humiliation; a woman should try to utilize them, above all in the direction, which the Creator and nature have outlined for her. There isn't a slightest fear that a woman would stray from the right path. In the development of each organism there is the moment of emergence and maturity - the age of hatching the seed sown, its growth and the production of the desired fruit. Suffrage, in its revealed nucleus, sometimes presented the features of eccentricity, in clothes imitating male characteristics or freedom of manners, not in line with the female's charm - sometimes going beyond as far as to outbursts, however, as if it has not been an undeniable fact, the merit of outstanding female figures, the complicity of all of her teams, the hunger strike of the tenacious imprisoned first pioneers of the women's cause - voices that reached from the farthest corners of the world the most hardened hearts - suffrage will be recognized by the government of the United States without any restrictions, except for the tasks inherently emerging for women.

In Poland, a woman without a suffrage by law sanctified by custom enjoyed freedom and great appreciation. Today we have 7 deputies - women - in the Seym in Warsaw - in the English Parliament, women are sitting in the Washington Congress, and in areas of less significant importance, such as the police and civil service, women are also running for serious positions.

In Poland, heroines fight under a rifle, they defended Lviv during the world war, the women of the fighting countries picked up the responsibilities of men. Therefore, isn't a woman entitled to a full citizenship? Behind her efforts there were introduced defense laws for children and mothers, improvement of schools, health conditions and city beautification. In the ballot box, as she senses the vileness of politics, a woman can become a light of truth and a signpost of civic virtue and a pearl of spiritual qualities.

In the upcoming presidential election in USA, for the first time the women are taking part not only in the elections, but also in the election campaign. Women proved that they are zealous workers, talented speakers and skilled performers of office duties.

Anyone who thinks that the current campaign can do without a woman, is wrong. Several prominent American women have already applied to take up this job for the competing political parties. We also confirm that the West American woman is more zealous in this case to pioneer the suffrage and the upcoming elections. Gifted with extraordinary quickness and firmness, she knows how to take advantage of the situation, while her sister from the east is more conservative in her views and remains to some extent under the influence of already accepted customs and requirements of the fashionable world. We hope that our Polish women, citizens of the United States, naturalized or born here, will not hesitate to engage in a new field, with a willingness to support the right cause, and to mark their competencies, fulfill their duty and gain the desired influence on the fate of Poland in the presently ongoing combat in the homeland.

Therefore, Dear Sisters, let's sense the spirit of the times and let's begin this new and grand endeavor.
