Biographical History
Beth Brinkmann Cianci was born on April 3, 1954. She graduated from Evanston Township High School in 1972 and attended the National College of Education in Evanston, Illinois, from 1972 until 1975. She served as the Girls Program Director at the Evanston YMCA the following year. In 1976, she became a full-time homemaker, raising her two children, Mia and Matthew. Beth soon became involved in advocacy efforts for women’s rights, especially concerning the rights of homemakers. She worked with the Homemakers Equal Rights Association, serving on its national board from approximately 1979 until 1983. She also served as a field organizer for the National Organization for Women and helped found the first National Women’s Center in Woodstock, Illinois.

Scope and Content
The Beth Brinkmann Cianci materials relate to Beth’s advocacy efforts for women’s rights organizations, including the Homemakers Equal Rights Association and the National Forum for Women. The documents include materials for state and national women’s rights organizations.
