

Oak Street Beach

A NEW PLAY BY BARBARA GEORGANS

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 21ST

It's the summer of '69 and a sexual revolution is in full swing in Chicago. But this "Summer of Love" takes a dark turn for June, who turns to drinking and drugs to cope. June leans on her pals, Patty and Bess, who are confronting problems of their own. Even though the world is changing, it's still hard to be a woman in the late 1960s America. Can the friends make a difference, or is it just a spit in the lake?
